Downscaling Culture

In the current era of globalisation, big-C Culture loses analytical purchase. However, research, as well as intercultural training and education, continues to take for granted a more or less fixed idea of culture. This volume updates intercultural communication, both its theory and its application, by utilising a theory of scales in order to understand how culture gets contextualised as speakers communicate and negotiate meaning with each other. As succinctly captured in the title of this volume, it is suggested that research can 'downscale culture' analytically: culture might be, but also might not be, relevant in an interaction. The 14 chapters brought together here explore the possibilities of such downscaling from a wide range of core themes in intercultural communication studies and from various research traditions, including interactional sociolinguistics, critical geography, conversation analysis, critical discourse analysis, textual analysis, multimodal analysis and nexus analysis.

English Writing – A Practical Guide draws on the author's rich experience as a teacher, teacher trainer, principal, and consultant. The book seeks to engage students to write different types of compositions and improve their general language proficiency through writing. The book addresses the sequence of developing writing skills, and what 'Process-oriented writing instruction' and 'process-cum-genre based writing' is. It includes parallel writing (controlled writing), guided writing, picture and personal descriptions, journal writing, different types of paragraph writing, essay writing, and situational writing, writing answers to questions, correcting and responding to student writing, and grammar for writing for different types of compositions. The book will motivate teachers to guide students in English writing in a systematic manner and build confidence in them to write on different topics independently.

Stories in Champak are set in a unique forest, Champakvan. Champa is an evergreen fragrant tree and van means forest. Great adventure lies in every page, waiting to take children on a wild and exciting ride. Everyone in this forest treats the other with respect, kindness, sensibility and, most importantly, they value friendship. Jumpy the Monkey, he is someone who loves himself and thinks he can do nothing wrong. Mischief comes easily to Jumpy, but he sulks easily when someone makes a fool of him. Always on a lookout for adventure, his world is full of laughter, mischief, ego and friendship. Jumpy makes us love the curious beings we are but also cautions us not to be boastful for that could land us in a soup!

Shersingh the Lion: Always dressed fashionably, he is the king of the jungle and takes his responsibilities very seriously. He is a defender of free speech. Loved by all the animals, he is just and fair, but can get angry very quickly, at times is stubborn and also jumps to conclusions. But he is quick to realise his mistakes and there is humour and a message of togetherness in his stories. Shersingh brings out the kind leader we all would like to be.

And whatever can go right, still goes wrong with Damru. There's never a dull moment around him. He always takes things as they are said, and not as they should be understood, goofing up at even the easiest of jobs. Let's laugh when we see the Damru in us, for life need not be lived seriously all the time.

It has taken me more than four years to complete this picture book. I ask for thirty seconds of your attention to go through the essence of my work. I am blessed to be born in an artistic family where I learnt the various moods and emotions of colors. Equipped with that hereditary gift and mercy of Almighty, I could complete this journey of Art. I have written many poems in English, Bengali and in Hindi. One Hindi poetry book "ARPAN" was published in 1997, but this is my dream book. In this book, I want to catch the attention of kids towards our golden ethics, which seek to resolve questions of human morality by defining concepts such as good and evil, right and wrong, virtue and vice, justice and crime. I think your thirty seconds time is over and hope you are now ready to embark upon this pictorial journey with me.
