COHESIVENESS The extent to which a group will abide by and enforce its norms depends on its degree of cohesiveness.

Group cohesiveness is the attractiveness and closeness group members have for one another and for the group

TEAM The more cohesive the group, the more its members stick together as a team.

DESIRABLE The more desirable group membership is, the more willing the members are to behave according to the team's norms.

PEER PRESSURE To be accepted by the team, members will behave in ways they really don't agree with.

SATISFACTION Many research studies have compared cohesive and noncohesive teams and concluded that cohesive teams tend to have a higher level of success at achieving their objectives, with greater job satisfaction.
