1. Customer obsession: start with the customer and work backwards; work vigorously to earn and

- keep customer trust; pay attention to competitors, but keep obsessing over customers
4. Leaders are right a lot. you have strong judgment and good instincts; you seek diverse perspectives and work to disconfirm your beliefs
 5. Frugality. accomplish more with less. Constraints breed resourcefulness, self-sufficiency and invention. There are no extra points for growing headcount, budget size or fixed expense
 6. Hire and develop the best. raise the performance bar with every hire and promotion; recognize exceptional talent, and willingly move them throughout the organization; develop leaders and take seriously your role in coaching others
 7. Earn trust. listen attentively, speak candidly, and treat others respectfully. Be vocally self-critical, even when doing so is awkward or embarrassing; leaders do not believe their or their team's body odor smells of perfume; benchmark yourself and your team against the best.
 8. Insist on the highest standards. you have relentlessly high standards - many may think these standards are unreasonably high; you are continually raising the bar and driving your team to deliver high quality products, services and processes; defects do not get sent down the line and problems are fixed so they stay fixed
 9. Bias for action. speed matters in business. Many decisions and actions are reversible and do not need extensive study. We value calculated risk taking.
 11. Have backbone. Disagree and commit. respectfully challenge decisions when you disagree, even when doing so is uncomfortable or exhausting; have conviction and be tenacious; do not compromise for the sake of social cohesion; once a decision is determined, commit to it.

Understand the decision, break it down into a model, and use this template to guide you through the risk assessment process.

Analyze the assumptions that affect the decision and run a sensitivity analysis to determine their impact.

Risk managers must shift their focus to understanding the decision and its assumptions before conducting interviews.

Create a decision model by listing assumptions, documenting values, and identifying risks.

Gather data, talk to experts, and map risks to assumptions to identify relevant risks for a decision.

Mapping out mitigations against risks and assumptions can help reduce uncertainty and improve decision making.

Risk analysis helps make informed decisions by assessing assumptions, linking risks, and running simulations.

Risk management table encourages Monte Carlo simulations for better decisions.
