Intro

STRUCTURE CONT. • Synapse: The junction between two nerve cells, where impulses (signals) pass by diffusion of a neurotransmitter • Neurotransmitters A chemical signal released by the axon terminal because of the arrival of a nerve signal Glial cells (glia). They form the myelin which supports and protects the neurons

Conduction of Action Potentials • The Action potential travels along the axon Action potentials are conducted across long distances without decaying Action potentials have specific sizes and exist within a specific time frame • Schwann cells form a myelin sheath • Nodes of Ranvier are exposed sections of the axonal membrane in between internodes

Neurons communicate with other cells at synapses Neurons communicate with one another at junctions called synapses. At a synapse, one neuron sends a message to a target neuron (another cell). • Most synapses are chemical Other synapses are electrical

Generation of Postsynaptic Potentials - At many chemical synapses, the receptor protein that binds and responds to neurotransmitters is a ligand-gated ion channel - Binding of the neurotransmitter to a specific part of the receptor opens the channel

Modulated Signaling at Synapses There are also synapses in which the receptor for the neurotransmitter is not part of an ion channel • The neurotransmitter binds to a metabotropic receptor This activates a signal transduction pathway in the postsynaptic cell involving a second messenger • These second messenger systems have a slower start but they last longer

Example: cyclic AMP (cAMP) as a second messenger • When the neurotransmitter norepinephrine binds to its metabotropic receptor, the neurotransmitter-receptor complex activates a protein, which in turn activates adenylyl cyclase, the enzyme that converts ATP to cAMP cAMP activates protein kinase A, which phosphorylates specific ion channel proteins in the postsynaptic membrane, causing them to open or close

Neurotransmitters A single neurotransmitter may bind specifically to more than a dozen different receptors, including ionotropic and metabotropic types • A neurotransmitter signal is terminated when neurotransmitter molecules are cleared from the synaptic cleft The removal of neurotransmitters can occur by simple diffusion or by other mechanisms such as by enzymatic hydrolysis Some neurotransmitters can be recaptured in which they are repackaged in synaptic vesicles or transferred to glia for metabolism or recycling to neurons

Neuropeptides Some neuropeptides can often function as neurotransmitters Oftentimes, neuropeptides deal with the both substance and endorphins which affect the body's perception of pain
