Reports of Cases Argued and Determined in the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania

Excerpt from Cases Argued and Adjudged in the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, Vol. 1 There is a rule of evidence that a party shall produce the best evidence which the case admits of. In practice, however, there are very many exceptions. Where a deed is acknowledged, or a depo sition taken before a man who states himself to be a justice of the peace, the deed is recorded or read in court, and so is a deposition, though we have not the best evidence, nor any evidence that the man who certified it was a justice of the peace. Copies of the returns of surveys under seal for the surveyor-general's office, are, and have been received, and the commission of the deputy-surveyor who made them is not asked for, any more than the justices of the peace above stated. The boundaries of a surveyor's district are also taken from report, as well as the fact of his being a deputy surveyor; if either is contested, notice is given before the trial, or the party contesting the authority comes with a copy of the com mission to some other person, and with proof that the land was actually out of the district. Se the commission of a sheri , or proof that the writ was executed within his county is not required - if denied, the truth may be inquired into. The sheri ' and dep uty-surveyor generally have assistants, and the authority to the deputy-sheri ', or assistant to the surveyor, is scarcely ever in writing; I will say never where the person is generally employed. If a man who has never been engaged to make a survey for the officer, is wanted to make a single survey, he may be requested in writing. In some instances, there are several persons who act as assistants to the deputy-surveyor, and when they continue to act in that capacity for a long time, this is as generally known as it is known who is the deputy-surveyor of the county. WHAT IS THE LEGAL QUESTION? What is the question the court is asking? The holding is the answer to this question.

WHAT IS THE ANSWER TO THAT QUESTIONS This is the court's holding The court affirms, reverses, and/or remands back to the lower court for further proceedings.

REASONING Ask yourself "Why" the court answers the question in this way. What "test" does the court use to answer the question?
