Meeting the Living God

A completely revised edition of the book that has sold more than 70,000 copies into Catholic High Schools. It tackles the "God problem" in terms that high school students can understand -- in their language and from the perspective of their culture. Witty, provocative, and thoughtful.

Meeting the Living God

A best seller, now in its fourth edition, that tackles the "God problem" in terms that high school students can understand in their language and from the perspective of their culture.

Meeting the Living God (Fourth Edition)

God Questions is a simple guide for adults on some of the important questions of faith.

God Questions

Here's a way for serious Christians to grow in faith, hope, and charity -- an essential duty neglected by all too many. Readers will deepen their understanding of the importance of these three virtues and enflame their desire for them. They will discover that faith, hope, and charity need not remain distant prizes that can be obtained only through great effort; rather, with the wisdom in this book, these virtues can give fresh life to the soul.

And the Word Dwelt Among Us

In this book John Polkinghorne and Michael Welker explain how they understand faith in the living God. Between them, they offer a "binocular vision from [their] twin perspectives to yield helpful insight in relation to the important issues." Part of the fascination of this book is how two people with such different backgrounds approach central theological questions relating to the faith they both share. Their concerns are truth rather than polemics, reliability rather than simple certainty. They seek to anchor their thought in concrete particulars rather than abstract generalizations. They ask the questions that trouble the inquiring mind, and meet head-on the challenge as well as the reassurances of belief. This second edition provides a new Preface and updated bibliographies.

I Have Seen the Living God

In this book John Polkinghorne and Michael Welker explain how they understand faith in the living God. Between them, they offer a "binocular vision from [their] twin perspectives to yield helpful insight in relation to the important issues." Part of the fascination of this book is how two people with such different backgrounds approach central theological questions relating to the faith they both share. Their concerns are truth rather than polemics, reliability rather than simple certainty. They seek to anchor their thought in concrete particulars rather than abstract generalizations. They ask the questions that trouble the inquiring mind, and meet head-on the challenge as well as the reassurances of belief. This second edition provides a new Preface and updated bibliographies. "Two leading Christian thinkers, a physicist and a theologian, engage here in a truth-seeking conversation about their common faith in the living God. The book is short but its content is profound: a compelling witness to both the reasonableness and substantive richness of the Christian faith written for its troubled friends and its educated despisers alike." --Miroslav Volf, director of Yale Center for Faith and Culture "Here is a stimulating dialogue on the articles of faith from two of the most gifted theologians of our time. Polkinghorne speaks in conversation with science and Welker with philosophical and cultural challenges. Though different in some ways, they are both convinced that a biblically informed faith invites us to speak of God in the midst of life as it actually exists in all of its complex possibilities and dangers. This is much more of an invitation to join a conversation than it is a system of thought. I found it compelling." --Frank D. Macchia, Vanguard University "This book's genre makes it unique and exceptional--a conversation between friends, although from diverse backgrounds, both of them informed and inspiring. There are many other books on these themes, even these two have published on many of these topics, but there is nothing like this book. Readers are privileged almost to overhear while two major public intellectuals of our time engage--personally, respectfully, honestly--in serious dialogue on questions of truth and understanding." --Dirk J. Smit, Princeton Theological Seminary John Polkinghorne, KBE FRS (born in 1930) is an English theoretical physicist, theologian, and Anglican priest. A prominent and leading voice explaining the relationship between science and religion, he was professor of mathematical physics at the University of Cambridge from 1968 to 1979, became an ordained Anglican priest in 1982 and served as the president of Queens' College, Cambridge, from 1988 to 1996. Michael Welker, (born in 1947) was a professor of theology at the German universities of Tübingen, Münster, and Heidelberg and frequently a guest professor in the Anglo-American world (McMaster, Princeton, Harvard, Emory, and Cambridge). He is an honorary professor at Seoul Theological University, senior professor at the University of Heidelberg, and director of its Research Center International and Interdisciplinary Theology (FIIT). He has organized many international and interdisciplinary research projects that related theology and science, theology and law, theology and economy.

Faith in the Living God, 2nd Edition

Why should Christians bother to read Carl Jung? He may be one of the most famous psychologists of the twentieth century, but are his views and ideas really compatible with Christian faith? While acknowledging some Christian suspicion of Jung, Ann Belford Ulanov and Alvin Dueck maintain that Jung's psychology can indeed enhance the life of faith.

The Living God

IN THE LORD JESUS CHRIST, THE HOLY SPIRIT IS INVITING US -- TO GO BEYOND THE KNOWN AND FAMILIAR TO THE UNKNOWN AND UNCHARTED. We can only achieve this as we press into His presence and enjoy intimacy with Him. ENCOUNTERING THE LIVING GOD has been written with a heart looking beyond to what only THE SPIRIT OF THE LORD can accomplish through a life fully surrendered to HIM. I am merely a Christian who pressed into the Lord, knowing only He could bring my highest dreams to come true. I said 'yes' to His invitation of love, and He blessed my life with His divine presence and gifting. He is our Heavenly Father, and He will do the same for you if you say 'yes' to Him and His plans for your life. I pray as you read this book, that the Lord touches your heart and mind, and blesses your spirit to soar beyond your wildest desires and dreams for his name's sake. You are unique in HIM. You have been bought with a high price and your life worth so much. 20" Now to Him

Who, by (in consequence of) the [action of His] power that is at work within us, is able to [carry out His purpose and] do superabundantly, far over and above all that we [dare] ask or think [infinitely beyond our highest prayers, desires, thoughts, hopes, or dreams]-- 21 To Him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus throughout all generations forever and ever. Amen (so be it)." Ephesians 3:20-21 (AMPC) Maryam's Ziadat passion through her teaching and prophetic writing is to see the Bride reaches her full potential in alignment with her Father as each season unfolds and to see the Church genuinely understand and enjoy the identity and freedom she has in the Lord Jesus.

Faith in the Living God

Woo Myung is the #1 Wall Street Journal, #1 Amazon, #1 Barnes & Noble, and USA Today bestselling author of How to Have a Meeting with God, Buddha, Allah. Did you know that everything you have been searching for is within your mind? Truth, Heaven, happiness, success and health are all within your mind. This book guides you how to discover it. The top 10 things that people are looking for: 1. Go to a world where one will not die and live eternally 2. Be happy 3. Be successful 4. Have the ability to accomplish one's goals 5. Be healthy 6. Have peace within 7. Become free from useless thoughts and truly focus on the present 8. Break bad habits 9. Always have a grateful mind 10. Have successful relationships All of the above and more can be found from within the mind. For humans, although it seems that they are living in the real world, they do not live there because they are living inside the mind world that overlaps the world. Because people live in the illusionary world, their minds are not righteous, and they cannot see the world for what it is. However, when you enlighten to and live in the real world, you can know the principles of the world and can become a complete person. This book, which has been written from the perspective of Truth, explains the ways of this world. It is the alternative solution to help you find what you are looking for and achieve everything.

The Living God and Our Living Psyche

For more than five hundred years, the Bible has been referred to as the Word of God. Yet, even before the Bible was written, there was a Living Word—spoken through prophets and through Jesus of Nazareth — that ultimately echoes through the centuries. Pastor Toivonen relies on his nearly thirty years of preaching as well as studying and interpreting the Bible to inspire others to contemplate how God speaks in the contemporary world and whether God prefers flesh and blood to ink and paper. While sharing his careful examination of how the Bible came to be the Word of God through a very human process and why the Word of God is intended to be living and breathing as opposed to a book, Toivonen offers intriguing insights and commentary that encourages spiritual seekers to embark on a personal journey to answer their own questions about the Bible, its authority, and its trustworthiness. Reading Jesus offers encouragement to anyone ready to consider a deeper and more meaningful relationship with Jesus of Nazareth and apply the Word of God to truly live God's way—today.

Encountering the Living God

At once a travel guide and a vision for the future, this is a new series for the Episcopal Church at a time of fast and furious social and demographic shifts. It analyzes our present plight, sketches a positive way forward, and points to the seeds of change transformative practices already at work renewing the church. What church models are most ready for transformation? What are the essential tools? What will give us strength, direction, and purpose to the journey?

I Have Walked with the Living God Large Print

We all know that a one-size-fits-all approach to RCIA catechumenate formation doesn't work. But until now, many of us were stumped trying to find a viable alternative. Seek the Living God: Five RCIA Inquiry Questions for Making Disciples is the answer to your prayers. After just a few meetings with your seekers, you will be able to easily create a customized faith formation plan that is tailored to the unique needs of each person. The best part is that the seekers do most of the work in developing their own plan. Your role shifts from being the Catholic "expert" to being a mentor and coach. Once you understand how the five-question process works, you can easily train others to use it. New team members don't have to worry about "knowing enough" to be on the team. Start using these questions with your very next RCIA seeker. You will be amazed at the powerful conversion that will happen with your inquirers—and with you.

The Living God

The Word of the Living God is living, active, powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the division of soul and spirit, and of joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. God made everything we see by the power of His Word. His Word does not change, but is forever settled in Heaven. Whatever has gone out of the Mouth of God cannot fail to fulfil the purpose for which God sent it. The Word of God gives life, hope, solution, success, prosperity, signs, wonders, miracles, purity, deliverance, salvation, protection, and Heaven at last.

The Son of the Living God

In this prophetic call to the contemporary church, pastor Mark Labberton redefines Christian worship in the language of justice. He calls us away from individualized worship and into worshipping communities that give expression to righteousness, justice and compassion.

Before the Living God

Experience His Glory Like Never Before! God created us with a supernatural capacity to interact with Him. Our genetic code is uniquely wired to sense and know Him. Yet many believers shy away from this experiential knowledge. Clearing away the confusion, prophetic leader and teacher Venner J. Alston not only gives you a biblical framework for encountering God but also helps you · understand your supernatural capacity to engage with the living God · discern the characteristics of true supernatural moments from heaven · position yourself to experience God in deeper ways · and more! God desires all believers to expect and experience encounters with Him--are you ready?

THE WORD OF THE LIVING GOD

'Erdrich is one of the greatest living American writers' Guardian Louise Erdrich, the New York Times bestselling, National Book Award-winning author of LaRose and The Round House, paints a startling portrait of a young woman fighting for her life and her unborn child against oppressive forces that manifest in the wake of a cataclysmic event. The world as we know it is ending. Evolution has reversed itself, affecting every living creature on earth. Science cannot stop the world from running backwards, as woman after woman gives birth to infants that appear to be primitive species of humans. Thirty-two-year-old Cedar Hawk Songmaker, adopted daughter of open-minded Minneapolis liberals, is as disturbed as the rest of America around her. But for Cedar, this change is profound and deeply personal. She is four months pregnant. Cedar feels compelled to find her birth mother, Mary Potts, an Ojibwe living on the reservation, to understand both her and her baby's origins. As Cedar goes back to her own biological beginnings, society around her begins to disintegrate, fueled by a swelling panic about the end of humanity. There are rumors of martial law, of Congress confining pregnant women, of a registry, and rewards for those who turn these wanted women in. It will take all Cedar has to avoid the prying eyes of potential informants and keep her baby safe. A chilling dystopian novel both provocative and prescient, Future Home of the Living God is a startlingly original work from one of our most acclaimed writers: a moving meditation on female agency, self-determination, biology, and natural rights that speaks to the troubling changes of our time.

Transforming Scripture

War had engulfed the whole world. The imposter Emperor ruling in Hub was the tool of the paranoid and almighty sorcerer Xinixo, who wielded the combined power of thousands of sorcerer slaves. And yet, despite his seeming omnipotence, the pathetic few who resisted him were still at liberty, even making a little progress. Xinixo's prime foe, Rap of Krasnegar, had rallied troll sorcerers to the cause and was about to try enlisting the incomprehensible elves. Fortunately for his sanity, he did not know that his daughter Kadie had been carried off by goblin invaders, or that his son Gath was heading for stark Nordland to deal with the fearsome jotnar. Or that his wife, Inos, was in Guwash, negotiating with gnomes. Shandie, the rightful Emperor, was with her, unaware that his wife, Impress Eshiala, believed him dead and had fled with Signifer Ylo, that notorious rake. And none of them knew about the sorcerers of Thume, especially the rebel pixie girl, Thaïle, who chafed against the secret binding of a thousand years. But the odds were still impossible and Longday was fast approaching. The sorcerers of the world foretold blood on Longday.

Concerning the worship of the living God, which he teacheth Israel his people ... With some questions and answers relating to conversion, and to tenderness of conscience

"We've got a list of questions, issues, stuff we're dealing with. We want your input, your thoughts on this stuff." Such were the origins of this little book. Two young clergy, early in their first call, imagined that I might have some useful wisdom to pass on based on my own years in ministry. Something like this was once standard preparation. Young people learned a profession like law, ministry, or medicine by apprenticing themselves to one seasoned in the practice. Not only has that way of learning largely vanished but we now live in times of increasing segregation and suspicion between different generations. Still, these two millennials bucked the trends. They thought they might have something to learn from an old boomer. The result is this collection of letters: personal, wry, direct, and honest. Full of both hope and realism about the church and ministry. This collection will be a welcome companion for young, and for many not so young, clergy trying to get a handle on ministry in the midst of a time that is full of change and challenge.

Seek the Living God

The Lord's move today is to recover the proper and practical church life for His full expression. In the church life the first and basic item of its practicality is the meeting life. Besides our experience and enjoyment of Christ, nothing is more crucial and vital than the meetings of the church. God's people are a meeting people and every gathering should be a wonderful exhibition of the Christ each one daily experiences and enjoys as well as a testimony of His victory over Satan and of the oneness of His Body, the church. It should also be a most pleasant time, one that is refreshing and nourishing to all the saints and one that is living, rich, uplifted, and full of rejoicing.

The Word of the Living God

The Decree Book can logically be divided into four major arenas: church history, theological propositions, organizational structures, and guiding principles. Church history has been and is being collected into a number of documents referred to elsewhere. The documents referred to earlier reflect the second and third major arenas. The present work attempts to bring to fore many aspects of the fourth major arena. The theological propositions are formally stated in "We believe?" or credenda terms. Organizational structures are copious throughout the Decree and range from ecclesiastical and clerical hierarchies, through the gamut of church structures and infrastructures, revenues and expenditures, official meetings and assemblies, discipline, and on into other prominent structural elements of the entity and their relationships to each other. The guiding principles mirror the highly visible "parental exhortations" expected of an experienced leader and "visible head." These principles, while not necessarily indicative of Bible preachments, are nonetheless conceived as wholesome and "safe" principles that will serve to guide future generations and development of the organization.

The Dangerous Act of Worship

"This book is not an academic study of what the church has taught, or what scholars have said, but rather a challenging study of what the Bible itself says about God. In The Living God, author R.T. France encourages us to come to grips with the broad sweep of biblical data, showing us that the God of the Bible is neither passive nor far removed from our everyday lives, but rather a dynamic and living reality to be engaged."--Back cover

Foundation Theology 2006

Christ is the life and content of the church life, but what is the proper ground of the church life? In this book Witness Lee unfolds biblical principles from both the Old and New Testament concerning the proper ground of the church and the importance of oneness in God's eyes. Lee continues with some practical points related to the proper way for Christians to meet together.
