HERITAGE VALUE What are we trying to safeguard when managing a World Heritage Property?

Preconceptions About Heritage Value

Understanding heritage values or significance is the starting point for values-based management

"OUTSTANDING UNIVERSAL VALUE" (OUV) Cultural and/or natural significance which is so exceptional as to transcend national boundaries and to be of common importance for present and future generations of all humanity.

CULTURAL WORLD HERITAGE: SITES

WHAT IS COMMON TO ALL THESE HERITAGE SITES? Heritage is safeguarded, protected and passed to future generations because it encodes knowledge important for the correct understanding of the origins, history, evolution diversity, development, and current state of our world, with the purpose of using the lessons history to make the future a better place

Operational Guidelines para 77

Operational Guidelines para 78-95

When geographical boundaries are established around a cluster of attributes these sites are identifiable as heritage properties the integrity and authenticity of which can be safeguarded

The integrity and authenticity of heritage properties are protected by their buffer zones

Heritage properties derive both meaning and protection from their settings

The Fundamental Aims of a Heritage Impact Assessment

Evaluating Significance

if not known, the HIA study will need to define and evaluate significance based on baseline data assessment supplemented by cultural mapping

As part of the heritage impact assessment process process, cultural mapping shows the relationship of significant heritage assets to and potential threats
