The Life and Letters of the Right Honourable Friedrich Max Mueller

This volume provides a broad overview of some cutting-edge philosophical topics of growing interest at the juncture between cognitive science and biology. The main goal is not to integrate the variety of approaches into a single account, but rather to offer diverse perspectives on a collection of selected biological issues of particular philosophical relevance, reflecting the plurality of current research in these areas. Four conceptual vectors give this volume its coherence: Animal and human cognition: With respect to animal cognition, this volume focuses on self-awareness and methodological flaws in the science of animal consciousness. Regarding human cognition, the authors of this volume address various aspects of so-called 4E cognition. Genetics: The role of genes in the development of mind and life has always been philosophically controversial. In this volume, the authors address the possibility of considering post-genomic genes as natural kinds and the proper analysis of the concept of genotype. Teleology: This volume addresses issues of evolutionary causality and teleosemantics, as well as questions relating to biological teleology and regulation. Evolution: Evolution exemplifies better than any other concept the convergence point between philosophy, biology and cognitive sciences. Among other things, the volume deals with the origin of novelties in evolutionary processes from various viewpoints (e.g., cultural evolution and developmental plasticity). Despite their disparity, all these topics belong to a common naturalistic framework. By presenting them in a single volume, the editors want to emphasize the need to always conduct philosophical research on mind and life with tangential domains in mind. This book is a valuable resource for students and researchers of philosophy with a special interest in life, cognition, and evolution, as well as for biologists and cognitive scientists.

The Life and Letters of the Right Honourable Friedrich Max Müller

La «religión» no es un universal, sino una clave en la conceptualización del mundo por parte de la intelectualidad occidental, la cual se ha otorgado a sí misma el derecho de definir a los otros según categorías que favorezcan la dominación, proyectando sobre el mundo las fracturas propias de la episteme moderna: Modernidad-tradición, progreso-atraso, religión-secularismo. A partir de esta constatación, el presente ensayo se centra en los «usos del monoteísmo» ejercidos por importantes pensadores europeos, desde Hume hasta Sloterdijk, mismos que han llevado a consolidar como obvia la presentación del islam dentro de las «religiones semitas» y como si fuese un «monoteísmo estricto». Una vez realizado el trabajo de deconstrucción, se plantea la necesidad de considerar al islam desde sus propios presupuestos, ideas-fuerza y metáforas fundamentales. Es así como el autor desarrolla una crítica genealógica a la disciplina académica de la «ciencia de las religiones» y a sus categorías fundamentales, mostrando sus conexiones con el proyecto colonial. Nos encontramos ante un texto que revela la pervivencia de la dimensión humanista/humanitaria del colonialismo y su conexión con el cristocentrismo —la misión evangelizadora de todos los pueblos de la Tierra—, presente hoy bajo la máscara del secularismo.
