What is it about watching cool stuff that tickles the pleasure center of our brain? Where once you had to be lucky enough to witness these events in person, now all you need to do is trust in people's prowess with a smartphone to capture the amazing on a rather consistent basis. Then count on us to deliver it for your viewing pleasure. Let's begin.

On one hand, sea otters are super cute, and on the other hand, they're capable of stupefying feats you wouldn't expect from such a slight animal. Watch the air this little guy gets coming straight out of the water.

If you've ever been to Japan, you know that you can get anything from a vending machine. That's no exaggeration. Literally anything. Check out the classic professional pour on this beer from a very unique machine.

If you've never had the pleasure of visiting Brazil, get on a plane right away. Jungles, tropics, forests, and coastlines... It's a diverse and stunning country full of incredible landscapes like this that will take your breath away.

If you're anything like me, your tools are scattered haphazardly all over the garage. We both need to learn a lesson from this next clip and keep our workspaces a bit more tidy.

This next one made my jaw drop at how functional it is. I had no idea such a stair/garage combo existed. I could see something like this really catch on.

If surfing is your life, but you live somewhere where the waves simply aren't tubular enough, just engineer your own waves in the most spectacular and ingenious way possible.

For those of you living in tropical climates, you might want to pay attention to this innovative and functional mosquito screen that can be easily deployed and tucked away to keep you comfortable at night. Sleep well, my friends.

This gorgeous creature is the red-eyed tree frog native to both Central and South America. If you come across one, although you might want to, please don't touch them with your hands. Although not poisonous, their skin is very porous and can absorb what it contacts, which can make them sick. Check out the outrageous suspension travel needed for these racing machines to handle the rough terrain of the desert. Just imagine the skill needed to safely and skillfully drive one of these racing machines that can cost anywhere up to a million dollars.

See for yourself how quickly your day at the beach can be ruined. These storm clouds are so treacherous that they block out the light of the sun turning a sunny day into a foreboding night. Time to pack up and head back to the hotel.

I'm going to go out on a limb here and say that there's nothing safe about what this guy's doing. That poor F-150 is so overloaded that it looks like it's about to be crushed into a pancake. If you see this crazy person heading down the road, please give him a wide berth.

This one you'll have to watch a few times to believe it's actually real. The screen on this Samsung S22 Ultra is so next level that you can hardly comprehend it. Just don't drop your phone, you may never find it again.

The only thing better than a good egg is a deviled egg. Try this technique out next time you're whipping up a batch of deviled treats. Did you know that deviled eggs date back to the Romans. Now you do. This poor bug was just minding his own business when this guy had to come by and start poking at it in order to make a video. Do you ever wonder how many creatures you pass without ever knowing because their camouflage is so good?

These are Moonwalkers, and they take the concept of the Heely to the next level. You can effortlessly transition from stationary to rolling depending on your terrain. Take a look at how easy it is to cover more distance using the same amount of effort. I can see these catching on in a big way.

A true artist can see the artistic possibilities in everyday objects and bring them to life in a way that most of us are simply blind to. Watch as a wholesome camping scene appears out of nowhere using this leftover Amazon shipping package.

Where some people see just some discarded pieces of metal, this guy sees the animal kingdom waiting to be reborn through recycling scrap metal into sculptures that dazzle and will live on for generations.

Showing off how good you are with your feet and a soccer ball is just a way of life for some footballers. Next time you're in Vietnam, why not take a ride in a basket boat?

You have to admire dogs like this that know how to take it slow and live the good life... That is while the rest of us have to go to work.

Take a close look at how intricate this razor scooter trick is. Keep in mind that if he botches any part of this, he's going to wipe out pretty badly.

A running theme of this channel is to point out how gymnasts love to show off. But if you were this smooth and graceful and looked good doing it, You'd probably show off too.

 Let's slow it down so you can really see how difficult this is. By the way, it's called "Flair One false move and a bit of skin can get sliced off and make it into the salsa. 1. Would you even notice?...And 2. That salsa looks so yummy and fresh, would you even care?
 This video is not being played in reverse. This animal is actually taking these steps backwards at speed. One false move and he'll go end over tea kettle and ruin his day for sure.
 This is either a martial arts demonstration, a gymnastics event, or a dance off. I'll leave it to you to decide.
 Polar bear plunges like this are getting more and more popular every year. Although they never seem to be in picturesque places like this. But before you dive in, make sure you're in good health.
 Choose your weapon. Will it be the skis or the mountain bike you prefer to carve up the sand dunes amidst the stunning beauty of the desert? Not a bad way to spend an afternoon.
 Watch as this ice princess combines her skating skills with a bit of artistic expression as she carves out some sweet designs on the rink.
 Take notes. When the mercury drops below freezing, you can build your own ice rink with homemade tools just like these guys. Just imagine the possibilities. You could win Dad of the year!
