What does this have to do with the future of Finance?

The finance factory Transactions will be touchless as automation and blockchain reach deeper into finance operations

The role of finance With operations largely automated, Finance will double down on business insights and service. Success is not assured.

Finance cycles Finance goes real time. Periodic reporting will no longer drive operations and decisions-if it ever did.

Enterprise resource planning Finance applications and microservices challenge traditional ERP. Big vendors will be prepared.

Workforce and workplace Employees will be doing new things in new ways, some of which will make CFOS uncomfortable.
