Buying and Selling a Home For Dummies

No-one obsesses over property quite like the British, even though buying and selling a home can be a personal headache and a financial lucky-dip. British newspapers groan under the weight of property supplements; TV reports constantly track house prices; young people fret about getting on the property ladder, while established homeowners worry about how to increase the value of their home or the market crashing. Buying a property is rarely straightforward and can be very time-consuming. There are numerous choices to make, from the style of building and location, to proximity to schools and other amenities. Most of all, there are plenty of opportunities to make the wrong decisions. Selling your home is also fraught with stress; from deciding to move and evaluating your property's worth to finding an estate agent and putting your home on the market, every step comes with its own difficulties. Plus the advent of the Home Information Packs has also created a new headache for potential vendors. Buying and Selling a Home For Dummies, 2nd Edition covers everything from finding a property and getting a mortgage to preparing your home for sale and moving on. It is also one of the few guides to cover England, Wales and Northern Ireland as separate entities from Scotland, and to cover the Scottish property market. This updated guide also contains coverage of HIPS (Home Information Packs), which were made compulsory in September 2007 and apply to all properties with three or more bedrooms.

The Bare Bones Guide To Buying & Selling Your Home

Having questions is great. Knowing the answers makes it perfect. Do you have 10, 20, or even 50 questions ready to go for the buying process? We start you off with over 100 specific questions all buyers should ask of their real estate professionals. We even give you the answers you should receive. How nice is that? Buyers always turn to a friend or their real estate agent as their one and only source of information. Why is that? That is the only person they know who has actually been through the buying process. Learn as you go has been the only teaching tool for ages. Learning from your real estate agent is like reading a book but starting on Chapter 6. You need to know a lot more before you ever contact an agent. It's just not a good strategy. It's the only strategy, until now. Accountability is the new normal. You must be accountable to yourself and be your own real estate advocate. Get to know what you deserve and are entitled to when dealing with others. Wouldn't it be perfect to have every question you need to start the process well before you even contact anyone for help. Wouldn't it even be better to have all the answers too? That would make you the perfect buyer. Buying a home is more than just looking on the Internet. There are specific questions you need answered before you ever start. These are questions for your agent, your lender, the seller's agent, the inspector, the appraiser, the surveyor, and the closing agent, but you don't know what to ask. This always becomes a main source of stress for the buyer. In this book, we give you the exact questions to ask and the answers you should be receiving, all in one resource. The Perfect Buyer is your guide to becoming an informed buyer based on actual questions all buyers should ask when purchasing a home. These aren't questions like rent vs. buy and how to save for your dream home. These are the exact questions you need to ask. We focus on all the questions you need to ask to move forward with your purchase. The problem is that you usually don't encounter these questions until you have actually started with the buying process. You have no time to think it over and all of your decisions are made under pressure. Wouldn't it be great to know all of this before you ever start? Now you know. We present these questions in progressive order from thinking about buying all the way through closing. You need answers well before you contact a real estate agent who helps you purchase a home. In this book you will learn: - Over 100 exact questions to ask to become totally informed - The answers you should be hearing from the professionals around you - How to become the perfect buyer in less than 2 hours If this is your first home or your tenth home, you will now be armed with an entire book of questions you can use today, as you start the buying process. Here is how you use this book. Each page has a question and an answer for you to ask your real estate professional. Write down their response to each of your questions and use this book as your reference guidebook for your upcoming transaction. Your stress levels are lowered, you are fully informed, and you are now the perfect buyer. You literally need no experience in purchasing a home to become the perfect buyer. With over 50 combined years of real estate transactions, we have chosen the most important questions a buyer needs to ask to become totally prepared. You will be amazed to see just how much material there is to prepare for your purchase. You will also be very pleased to know that you are now in full control as you go forward. How to Buy a Great House

Whether you are buying or selling your home, you need to stay in control of the process at all times. This text aims to help the reader do this. It contains detailed guidance on the legal side of buying and selling a house, from exchanging contracts to completion; what expenses to expect and how to keep them to a minimum; monitoring the activities of your estate agent and solicitor (unless you are handling your own own conveyancing - and there is advice on how to do that as well); and organizing the practicalities of the move itself. This edition also explains the current legislation dealing with the purchase of houses and lists all the official fees, such as those charged by the Land Registry and local authorities.

The Perfect Buyer

A Straightforward Guide to Buying and Selling Your Own Home is a comprehensive and clear guide for all who are involved in the purchase and sale of property. The Perfect Seller

LIGHTNING PROMOTION In order to revive the nearly unprofitable real estate market it is important that more and more homes are staged. This is a simple concept that ensures that a particular house that is for sales find appeal with more and more buyers. Apart from getting a large number of buyers so that the seller can strike a good bargain, it is also equally important for the seller that his house gets sold off quickly. It is important to increase the demand so that the market can get more lucrative. This is the primary reason why real estate agents are fast hiring, or themselves turning into 'staging professionals'. These professionals help in building homes that find maximum appeal to the seller in terms of their tastes and preferences. And it is a fact that stages homes bring as much as 15 percent more revenue than those that are not. People are constantly looking for a house with more space. Many look at it as an investment that how much they will gain when they in turn sell it. Keeping all this in mind a professional stages houses. Therefore, those people who want to sell their houses enlist the services of such staging professionals who, on being hired, help the owners to prepare their houses for sale. They are specialized to do such a job. And indeed, the sellers see the difference in the demand for their property and the price that is coming in, before and after the staging professional has done his job. Sellers generally use services of the agents who report to the seller that their house is not getting a good offer. They cannot, however, pinpoint the problem. They cannot understand the nature of renovation the house needs. Staging professionals, being How To Make Your Home Sell specialized at these things, have a good idea of what the buyers are looking for and are effectively able to help the seller. It is true that different buyers have different tastes, but with some things one can never go wrong. And this is precisely the principle that staging professionals follow. Staging of a house is done on the fundamental belief that a well-staged house will cost money. The seller will have to pay for the renovation and the professionals fees. It will still be more profitable than reducing the selling price of your house. According to a survey, 50 percent of the sellers are willing to spend about $2000 on staging, while 50 percent of them are willing to go up to $5000. Staging professionals have a clear idea about the kind of colors that sell, the kind of furnishing in the house that makes it more appealing to those who come to have a look at it. They also have a clear idea of how the space inside the house must be used for optimum utility, which seems to be a major concern for all buyers. It is a fact that well showcased houses sell 84 percent faster than those that are not. Staging professionals are not into house building or house designing. They merely advise the agents or the sellers themselves on the strategy to use while redoing their house.

The Real Estate Process

This little book will take you through the process of buying and/or selling a house. It gives you a lot of lists; some are questions to ask, some are things to not forget. It is easy to read, easy to understand, it's not lawyer type language; and, it will help you avoid the mistakes that so many buyers (17 mistakes) and sellers (15 mistakes) make. The author, Lee Simon, was a real estate broker in the Los Angeles area for 20 years. He has sold over one hundred houses to buyers and for sellers. He has also purchased 6 houses of his own and sold three of them. (he lives in one of them and rents the other two.) The really good news is that this book has lists that you can take with you and refer to as you work your way through the process of buying or selling. Here is a sample of one of the lists in the Buyers section: Mistake #3 When there's no Agent for the Seller. This is a FSBO, and they will represent themselves in the negotiations. That is sometimes alright, but you must try to get answers to these questions. That's the mistake here, to not try.* Were you ever a real estate agent or broker (very experienced)* Have you sold any houses before? (some experience if answer is yes)* What length of escrow are you looking for (does this fit with your needs?)* Have you had any other offers? (Are they on the table now?)* Are you looking to cash out? (If so, you need a bank loan or pay all cash).* Have you been under contract that fell out of escrow and cancelled? (this is to your advantage if so)* If it doesn't sell are you planning on listing it? (If yes, then they are more motivated to sell to you)* Do you know where you'll be moving to? (If they do they will be more motivated)* Are you willing to use the standard Realtors contract for this state? (This protects you)* Do you mind if I have my attorney review our contract if we get to that? Complete Idiot's Guide to Buying and Selling a Home

The conundrum of choosing whether to sell your house on your own or involve a real estate agent is as follows: If you can sell your house without a real estate agent, you won't have to pay the agent's commissions; but if your prospective real estate agent is capable of selling your house at a higher price than you could have sold it on your own, then you may end up making more money from the sale even after paying out commissions for the real estate agent. So the question remains, how can I effectively sell my house on my own, negotiate a good price, and come out better than I would have had I used a real estate agent? If you decide to sell your home on your own, you will need to give careful thought before making several important decisions. You will need to take time to learn the science behind sales and marketing - what attracts buyers and what turns them off. You'll need to know how to prepare your house for showing and how to negotiate a good price. The following chapters provide a step-by-step walkthrough of these processes as well as major decision factors involved in putting your home on the market "For Sale By Owner" (FSBO).

How to Buy a House

The proof is in the testimonials that have arrived by the thousands: "This is a really great book. It's simple. It's straightforward. We read it. We ran our ad. We got over 100 telephone calls. We sold our home."—John Henke, Boise, ID. "Our real estate broker was green with envy. In 5 days we got 24 bids higher than the highest bid she got us in 11 1/2 years. You're our hero!"—Elizabeth & Tim Hunter, South Berwick, ME. "I had a business opportunity I couldn't take advantage of unless I sold my home immediately. I saw your book in a bookstore and sold my home the next weekend. Thanks!"—Doug Walker, Salt Lake City, UT. "Thanks to your system I sold my home in 5 days at $1.26 million. You saved me $78,000 in real estate commission!"—V., Potomac, MD. Now in its third edition and timed perfectly to address a challenging real estate market, How to Sell Your Home in 5 Days turns the conventional on its head to present an innovative, practical, and foolproof alternative that makes the market work for you, the seller. Based on the one basic truth of free enterprise—that your home is worth exactly what the highest bidder will pay for it— this step-by-step plan shows exactly how to price your home attractively; make a timetable; write an effective ad; use buyer psychology, price points, and magic numbers to get the best price; and conduct round-robin bidding. It includes new information on the Internet—including a supporting website, www.5-day.com—the most recent testimonials, and updates to every phase of the process, from whether or not to renovate a kitchen before selling to the ins and outs of transferring ownership. Homes sold through the five-day plan sell for an average of 5% more than through conventional sales, plus, the seller doesn't have to pay a broker's fee—making this book among the best deals of the century.

Don't Fall into Traps When Buying a House

I hope this little handbook will be helpful to everyone: (1) the tenant (2) buyers, (3) sellers, and (4) investors. It was written specifically for those who want to learn more about the real estate industry without the knowledge of how or where to start. Some are even in but are afraid of taking further steps. They are so afraid; they stay on safe grounds by doing nothing. My book addresses buyers and sellers alike. If you are buying for the first time or if you are a second-time buyer, I cant stress enough to remind you that each transaction is different and may have different levels of involvement.
