A Level Media Studies,.

Component 2 has some optional set texts that schools can choose from, which means some questions on the paper might not apply to your school!

A2 part question might not always be worth equal marks. For example it might be a 5 mark question and a 25 mark question. But the total will always be 30 marks.

In a 2 part question, it is likely that one part will be about one of your set products, and the other part will be about the other set product

If it is a single question worth 30 marks, it is likely it will ask you to discuss BOTH products in your answer.
