A Collection of Poems

A Collection of Poems A Journey Through Life By: Cheryl Williams A Collection of Poems takes us through the power of the human mind, good or bad, and its impact on one's direction and journey through life. With the help of music, writing, and positive thinking, author Cheryl Williams found hope and purpose in life. Life isn't fair. It is unpredictable, bad things happen to good people, and we never know what tomorrow holds. Cheryl wants her readers to realize that even when faced with insurmountable, hopeless situations, even when life seems dark and uncertain, we should never let go of hope and appreciate the beauty and blessings that life has to offer, making the most of every day, loving, living, laughing, and learning. Seasons change, and there is always a rainbow after the storms of life.

My Life in Verse

For 2009, the BBC is planning a major 'Poetry Season' on BBC2 and BBC4. This landmark series on British Poetry will be the centrepiece of the season, and Penguin Classics is publishing the official anthology to tie-in with it. The anthology will include all the poems read or mentioned in the series as well as a large number of others selected to complement them. It should prove to be a hugely successful way of bringing the best of British poetry to a wide audience. The TV series is from the people who brought you Who Do You Think You Are and will consist of 4x60 minute episodes following a celebrity presenter on his or her life-journey through poetry. Each episode will focus on a theme that has inspired some of the great poetry of the past, and continues to do so, such as love and death, war and nationhood, nature and religion. The celebrities will be passionate and articulate about the way poetry has changed and enhanced their lives through all its various stages. Among them are poems chosen by actress Sheila Hancock exploring human relationships and the loss of a loved one, from Yeats and Tennyson to Blake and Larkin. Comic Robert Webb has selected the modern verse that inspired him, including the love sonnets of E. E. Cummings and the wordplay of Don Paterson. Musician Cerys Matthews celebrates the rich verse of Wales, Ireland and Scotland [poets], and writer Malorie Blackman chooses the [rich variety of] poetry that spoke to her, from Psalm 23 to Roald Dahl to Benjamin Zephaniah.

A Journey

This book is about life, but not just any life; my life. Inspiration came from and continues to come from things in my life. This unconventional life story is told through poetry covering several topics; inspirational, feelings, country life for example. Throughout reading this book, I hope to help at least one person to feel understood and that they're not alone, or inspired or encouraged. Words are powerful, no matter how they're said or read. Words can build you up, comfort you, and bring you peace. These words aren't empty, they're written with meaning and hopefully, if you decide to read some of these words, they can convey the emotions and hope they were written with.

Life's Journey Through Poetry

A collection of poems about some of the people, places, or events from the author's journey through life.

My Life: a poet's journey

Life's Journey by Roberta Dawn is a collection of one hundred poems she has written over the years. Some poems have been inspired by her personal experiences and some from trying to understand the world around her. There is at least one poem for everyone to relate to, if not several. Anyone who has family, friends, a significant other, a bad or good day, lived military life, and more will have something to relate to. In fact, anyone who has walked this journey through life should enjoy this book. Roberta Dawn hopes these poems can help people understand others better and understand their own thoughts and feelings. These poems can also help others know they are not alone, that others may have faced similar challenges and may be experiencing similar emotions. Life's Journey is a variety of poems written about love, heartache, sadness, happiness, grief, and life from the author's perspective. Each poem is written from the author's heart as they came to her like a gift in the wind when she needed the words to express her thoughts, feelings, love, and sometimes pain. Every word is written with many possible impressions, feelings, thoughts, experiences. These poems are meant to be read and reread, to be read alone and shared, and to be appreciated and enjoyed.

Life's Journey

Throughout life there is expression of music, art, dance, songs. Each of these touches us in many different ways. If a picture is worth a thousand words then what are words worth? The expression of words are powerful as it is the readers interpretation of meaning which can be anything we want it to mean. In these pages you'll find that some of these poems may be about you, someone you know. Each poem will paint a picture in your minds eyes and will insert you into the scene.

Expressions

These poems are about a lifes journey through self-evaluation, seeing oneself in a positive space while asserting self-empowerment, positive growth, and acceptance of the new you. It is also important for us to identify negative energy, deflect them in their path, and forge ahead to the best part of oneself while embracing the beauty of art and poetry.

Life a Poet's Journey

This collection of poetry has been almost 40 years in the making, spanning time from the author's adolescence to mature middle age, through love, marriage, divorce, personal loss, and death. It is comprised of a variety of subjects and themes that cover most of the emotional aspects of life that are experienced by all human beings. There are unique poems of humorous and mystical context, as well as some moving descriptions and metaphors on nature. The author believes there are strong common reference points which readers will enjoy and relate to. It reads easy and does not require any formality of poetry structure to be able to appreciate. There are many short poems, and a few longer ones, with both free verse and rhyming schemes. You are invited to come along on this extended journey that reveals the experience of life well lived.

Life Through Poetry and Art

POETRY: A Delightful Journey Through Life is an arrangement of over eighty well-selected classical poems into eight basic life stages in which most people pass through or experience in the course of a lifetime. These eight stages are Childhood, Beyond a Bumbling Society, In Search of Love, On Pain and Irony, Satisfaction with the Simple Things of Life, The Seasons, On Death, and Lines to Lift and Inspire. Each of the eight stages is first introduced within an appropriate setting or frame of mind under which the selected poems follow. The reader is then carefully introduced to each poem, making it more readily understood. Inasmuch as poetry generally uses figurative symbols and imagery, the reader, coming from any number of backgrounds of education and experience, is allowed to put his or her own finishing touches on the poem, and can thus experience personal enjoyment from the poetic images embodied in the poems.

A Life's Journey... Extended

The material written in this book began its life form in 2003. The origins of birth are hidden emotions and feelings. Some had been locked inside previously and others purposely hidden or simply unknown. While experiencing some of life's challenges, the time came where these emotions had to be released so that chapters could be closed. The only way to move forward was to face these feelings head on without any fear. In doing so, the author hopes to not only capture your attention, but to give you something that you too might be able to relate to. You will find poems of opinion, philosophy, change, strengths, weaknesses, love, laughter, joy and pain, while all of the poems come from within the author's soul. One of the most important things in life is that we learn from our mistakes. The more we learn, the more opportunities we can create for ourselves. This book gives the reader a chance to see inside the soul of a man; the many thoughts, many dreams, many insights. Many of the writes in this book will leave the reader in deep thought, while others may compel the reader to reread it because they simply liked how it was written or because they can identify with the writer's feelings and emotions. So, the time has now come for you to take a little stroll, 'Inside the Soul of Me,' where you will meet the writer's heart through poetry and prose.

Poetry: A Delightful Journey Through Life

Life is tough and full of hard times and heartache, but it's also beautiful and plush and vibrant. Walk Through a Field of Flowers is a collection of poems gathered over a lifetime starting as a young child. Some are autobiographical, others are written as an observer of life and other people's struggles or situations. The Author has added her own thoughts about each poem and explained the meaning and origin; sometimes funny, sometimes serious, and occasionally with a little humility. Throughout the book, the Author often compares the perspective of an innocent young girl versus the somewhat jaded, sometimes cynical perspective of an adult.

Inside the Soul of Me

One Life's Journey by Leanne Harshbarger The poetry in One Life's Journey was penned based on the life and worldly travels of the author. As a young college graduate, she decided to travel to France for a year expanding her education while experiencing European culture at the young age of twenty-three. Upon her return, and envisioning such differences between European and United States cultures, these adventures struck a spark in her to begin writing about her experiences. Within a couple of years though, a major change in her career forced her to reconsider her path in life. A period of time developed in her early 30s in which she went through many troubling times from a career perspective as well as broken relationships. During this period, her visions about dreams, love, relationships, and life in general troubled her greatly. Her writings became more advanced and touched on the reality of what the author was experiencing along with other people struggling with the same issues. The author wrote the poems in One Life's Journey because they applied to her personally during portions of her life. The poems are based on what happens as we go through life; real love, sometimes lost, real relationships, sometimes broken, how we dream what could be, and a family most people hope they have. The author created a special section called 'What beholds Us.' She believed we, as inhabitants of this great planet called Earth, don't take into consideration the beauty that surrounds us, what keeps us, what holds us. Our daily lives cause us to not stop, take a moment and 'smell the roses.' Her poems in this section ask her readers to just stop a second, and look at the beauty that surrounds us all.

A Walk Through Life's Doors

Whether or not you are a poetry lover, you will be so glad you found this book. It's liberating." — Louise Hay, the New York Times best-selling author of You Can Heal Your Life "I love Nancy's poetry. Her words convey urgent messages from the Soul." — Dr. Wayne W. Dyer, the #1 New York Times best-selling author of Excuses Begone "Sit back, let these words flow through you, and feel the magic of healing and aliveness contained in the pages of this book." — Cheryl Richardson, the New York Times best-selling author of Take Time for Your Life Inside this book you will find the poems that became the steppingstones along my path of love, loss, grief, searching, awakening, freedom, becoming whole, and owning my voice. I offer these poems to you with the hope that they serve as an inspiration and invitation.

One Life's Journey

Andrea Shannon writes poetry that reflects on life experiences and relationships – the good, the bad and the ugly. This collection of poems will draw you into her world and perhaps give you a closer look into your own. As you read, you will find yourself saying, "I know someone like that" or "I was in the same situation at one time". See how many of your family, friends and acquaintances you can identify in these pages. You'll find no flowery prose here; each poem is real, raw and straightforward. Ms. Shannon tells it like it is and doesn't pull punches. Her writing takes you straight to her heart, exposing all the joy and pain, laughter and tears, anger and fear that come wrapped up in this thing we call life. This is a collection you will want to read again and again.

A Poem for the World

This book is a collection of musings reflective of a life well-lived. June Stabler has been a fond creator of poetry for many years, and this publication represents some of her best works. Chapters included are that of Love, Loss and Life.

Writing For My Life... Reclaiming the Lost Pieces of Me

Whether expressing the pangs of heartbreak, the harmony of authentic friendship or the various aspects of race and diversity, this poet's poetry has grasped the issue with sensitivity, depth and understanding. This poet sees poetry as a venture for sharing personal experiences and the experiences of others as a means of inspiring and encouraging others. Arthurine says thank you for your support and enjoy your reading.

More Than Words

The Poetic Life is a journey through the heart and life of a young poet. Starting at the adolescent age of fifteen, to the present day, Harte tells us of her battle through depression, rape, and heartache. She writes her feelings down in poetry, and her poems progress with her as she gets older and more able to cope. Harte also explains the meaning behind the poetry and why she wrote a particular piece.

A Journey Through Poetry

I have lived my life through poetry from the time I was 13 years old, reading Emerson and Shakespeare after school, to the present when I am now 71. This book presents poems I wrote that reflect on the meaning and purpose of my life, starting when I was a callow youth and continuing up to the present moment. It is thus a true autobiography of one man's journey through life as realized through poetry. But it is not a look backward like some autobiographies that are written at the end of life. It is more like a journal of entries written in the moment looking forward from youth to old age. The first part (age 13 to 31) covers my early meditations on life, death, youth, vocation and career. The second part (age 31 to 45) describes my search for love and how I found it in marriage. It also celebrates some of the many friendships that have enriched my life. The poetic narrative then goes rather silent from age 45 to 60 when I was busy writing the professional articles and books that defined my career. The third part (age 60 to 71) deals with the challenges of growing older. The last part of the autobiography has not been written yet because I am still alive. The book presents a lyrical narrative of human development as Erik Erikson might have described it, moving from one stage to the next from childhood to old age. For that reason, much of the material in these poems is intensely personal. I did not reveal them as I was pursuing my medical and academic career. Indeed, even my parents and siblings never saw these poems until recently. I feared that the culture that I lived in from 1965 to 2015 was not supportive of this kind of humanism. Maybe I was wrong. When I received a national award for humanism in medicine from my professional colleagues in 2017, the audience seemed to enjoy my poems. My purpose in sharing these poems now is to encourage young people to reflect about life, talk about it and perhaps write their own lyrical autobiography. The poems in this collection deal with life, death, youth, sex, vocation, work, career, love, marriage, friendship and aging well. What more is there?

A Walk Through Life

In these pages, you'll find a world of emotions, experiences, and reflections distilled into the art of poetry. O.J.D invites you on a lyrical journey through the depths of the human heart and the mysteries of life. With verses that explore love, nature, sadness, resilience, and the myriad moments that shape our existence, this poetry collection is a tapestry of emotions, words, and imagery. Each poem is a window into the soul, a mirror to the human experience. From the delicate cadence of love poems to the profound reflections on life's challenges, O.J.D weaves a poetic narrative that resonates with the universal and the personal. Each stanza is a piece of art, a piece of life, and a piece of you. Discover the power of words, the beauty of expression, and the connections that poetry brings. Open this book, dive into its verses, and let your heart find its reflection.

The Poetic Life

"My Poetic Journey" is a collection of poems from over the years, that I've written expressing my thoughts, moods, feelings and views of things, as well as people and issues which had an influence on my life.

Better Living Through Poetry

My journey through life has been one of many written words. These words get me through the best of times, but also through the worst of times, even though most of the time it's just word vomit that exits my brain. Either way, poetry is a passion of mine that is being refined through each situation life throws in my direction... and I am embracing it with all that I am.

A Universe Of Poems

Loss, love, life, learning... all these topics and more are the subjects of Angel's entrancing poetry collection, now available for the first time in print! This fascinating combination of poetry and prose will draw you in from beginning to end: beautiful, clear diction illustrate the elevated talent of this award-winning author, who shares her mind with readers in Proof of Life. One to treasure on your bookshelf, this collection is impossible to stop reading or read just once. Each poem is a journey through life and emotion, conveyed with the wondering of an apt visionary who yearns to give truth to those who knock on the door of her world. So step up, you're always invited: we promise it's one you won't want to leave.

My Poetic Journey

This book is written by an Everyman, a person who has traveled through the ups and downs of life, with his eyes wide open and his heart exposed. The eyes have seen too much. The heart has taken a few hits. It started with a poem. One poem reflecting a single thought. Then a second and a third and a fourth. The poems span a period and, in themselves, have become a reflection of the writer, me. The observations are not so unusual. It is unusual, however, I guess, to maintain a printed word of the journey.

Journey Through a Life of Words

These poems are about life's journey through self-evaluation, seeing oneself in a positive space while asserting self-empowerment, growth in a positive direction and acceptance of the new you. It is also important for us to identify negative energy and deflect them in their path and forge ahead to the best part of oneself while embracing the beauty of art and the word.

Proof of Life; Collected Poetic Works of Angel Dunworth

Emotions-they are all within us. Poetry-it is written to evoke those emotions hidden in our deepest being. This book is written especially for you. The words will, in some way, touch your heart and awaken memories and feelings that may have been forgotten. Some poems will make you smile, while others will generate inspirational or melancholy moods. Read them and let them touch your heart-they are written just for you. Find that special poem. When you find it, make a copy and hang it in a picture frame where it can be read again and again. No one will read the same poem and receive the same meaning. Your life experiences are unique from all others. Let this poetry surround you for all the uniqueness that you are. Cherish the feelings. Let them touch YOU! It is YOU who makes YOUR poem special! "I'm first to see life's journey, Through the lens of my eyes, No one 'thinks' like I do, Or feels my laugh, or cry. I only, write my story, Experience the things I've done, I know I am somebody, And I am the only one."

Reflections in Rhyme

Writing these poems began as a therapeutic process which turned into words that supported me during a very tumultuous period in my life. The poetry that unfolded manifested itself as an inspirational source that further comforted me during this difficult season. Ironically, the poems were able to transcend my own personal experiences and can be applied to anyone's life as an inspirational thought that can be carried through out your day. Then it becomes my hope for you my reader, that the poems found within these pages bring you the same amount of solace, inspiration, and contentment, that it provided me as I created them just for you.

Life Through Poetry and Art Revisited

In the midst of nurturing a family, working in various full-time professional careers, living and traveling throughout the United States and other countries, Alma Margaret Permar has continued to write. In this book she has now brought some of the notes from the margins of her experiences into the center of the page. She has integrated her reflections and insights into a collection of very accessible poetry seeded by our universal life experiences of challenge, conflict, change, and celebration. This is a book that you will want to place on your nightstand with a pen so that you, too, can make notes in its margins as your own reflections and insights emerge. You will not only appreciate reading and engaging these poems, but you will also treasure discovering your own notes written in the margins of this book. About the Author Alma Margaret Permar is a writer who has taught school, been an executive for various community organizations, owned her own consulting business, and been a manager for real estate development and construction. She grew up in Steubenville, Ohio, and earned her bachelor's degree from Tarkio College, Missouri. She has also lived in Shreve, Ohio; in Pittston and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; in New York City, New York; and in Bethesda, Maryland. She currently lives with her husband, George Macpherson, in Tucson, Arizona. She has traveled to the Middle East, Latin America, the Caribbean, South America, Africa, and most regions of the United States. Alma is a member of the Society of Southwestern Authors. Throughout her mosaic life of nurturing family, pursuing varied careers, and doing extensive travel, Alma has embraced the constancy of writing. Her poems have been published in magazines and other media, and her short stories read and her plays performed at community events. In the margins of her journey she always writes about her insights into living. This is a small collection of poems from her writings. Alma may be contacted at: writeamp@cox.net. Praise for Written in the Margins "In the preface of this collection, Alma Permar speaks of the resume, or the facts of our lives; the stories, or how we've lived; and the margins, from which we've written little notes to reveal the essence of our journey. The poems herein are those notes, the tidbits that reveal the essence of Alma Permar. Her hope, which she confided to me early on, was that you, the reader, might find in this collection 'some insights or reflections that will be helpful or inspiring.' As you immerse yourself in these poems, allowing their gentle, everyday rhythms to wash over you, I don't doubt that you will find many such insights. Some will nudge you gently, some will whisper in your ear, and others will startle you just enough to evoke a smile. Enjoy." Harvey Stanbrough, author of Beyond the Masks, 2006 National Book Award nominee, www.StoneThread.com "To meet poet Alma Permar is like stepping out of a drenching rain into the arms of sunshine. Her eyes speak in smiles. Her heart in poetry. How is it, we wonder, that Alma Permar can see so far, so deep, so high, so wide, and create her own language of words? And how is it that we, the readers, can understand, see, and feel everything she tells us? Reading her poetry is like looking into a mirror where we find reflections of ourselves stretching, awakening to the wonders of today and the miracles of the past. Written in the Margins is a treasure chest of magic by a gifted writer who puts her own life, and everyone else's, into one glorious masterpiece of thoughts, verses, and songs. Alma Permar has created a book that will touch your soul." Penny Porter, author of Heartstrings and Tail-Tuggers, www.pennyporter.com

Poetry about You

DEFINED navigates through life's obstacles on a search for truth, healing, forgiveness, and strength. In the midst of being lost how do we find self, purpose, power, and destiny? "The book DEFINED is an incredible read that captures a plethora of stories through poetry. The beauty and turbulence written throughout N. Vision's journey of twenty-two years is a courageous place of truth. The authentic flow of rhymes that speak on fear, pain, hope, love, and injustice will resonate with every reader's heart." -Excerpt from Foreword

"Those are words - only words". This was a comment I once heard in response to another's comments. The response to the responder came back quickly - "words are truly all we have - our words are WHO we are. They are everything." This author could not agree more. In writing "Words Of A Lifetime... My Walk of Life Through Poetry

A vibrant, vulnerable collection she speaks of her life, of death and rebirth and what it might be like to learn from the earth of gray, tired thoughts and what it all means why hearts beat so red and grass grows so green she writes it all down, to her soul's wild delight in scribbles and lines 'cross her arms and her thigh she gathers them all like a squirrel with her seeds and carefully plants them betwixt all the weeds poems of love, and hate, and the self and fictional tales about witches and hell they all grew to height and took root in this book to give you, dear reader, a moment to look inside of a stranger's strange, colorful mind that spends all its days lost in space, dreams, and time With flowing rhymes, intoxicating free verse explorations, and vivid imagery, LIFE AS IT IS & OTHER POEMS will take you on a powerful journey through life and loss, depression and self-acceptance, nature and the universe, and everything in between. It will wrap its arms around you and cry with you. It will scream at the world and fight with you. It will teach you to grow wings and fly with you. It will show you life, as it is.

Journey Through a Life of Words

Both of my books are about everyday life through poetry whether it is about friendship, love, depression, marriage or inspiration.

Words of A Lifetime...So Far

This poetry book is a collection of my favorite poems that I have written since the age of seventeen. They cover the different stages of grief, life, and love. They have helped me express my deepest thoughts and feelings. The few people I have selected to read what I have written say that they can feel the raw emotion and enjoy the detailed craftsmanship. There are a few different types of poetry; I dabbled with the regular rhyming, acrostic poems and story like poems. I hope you enjoy reading it, as much as I have writing it.

Life As It Is & Other Poems

'A Journey with Time' is Robert Jaggs-Fowler's first collection of poems, the subject matter drawing on his love of nature, travel, books and music, as well as exploring the more intense emotions of love and loss. At times amusing, often poignant, 'A Journey with Time' reveals the inner workings of a sensitive human being who is in touch with far more than just life's daily toil.
