A Long Spell of Rain

A Long Spell Of Rain English Translation Of Balraj Komal'S Volume Of Selected Urdu Poems : Lambi Barish.

Strong in the Rain

Kenji Miyazawa (1896-1933) is now widely viewed as Japan's greatest poet of the 20th century. Little known in his lifetime, he died at 37 from tuberculosis, but has since become a much loved children's author whose magical tales have been translated into many languages, adapted for the stage and turned into films and animations. Recognition for his poetry came much later. 'Strong in the Rain' - the title-poem of this selection - is now arguably the most memorised and quoted modern poem in Japan.

Uncertain Rain

This is the second volume of poetry written in the last 15 years by RD Armstrong. This volume covers the years 1999 to 2007.

Fire and Rain

This is a collection of poems that celebrates royal occasions including the birth of Prince Henry by Poet Laureate, Ted Hughes. --Faber and Faber.

Firaq Gorakhpuri: Selected Poetry

Robert Gray is one of Australia's most acclaimed poets. Among his many prizes are the Patrick White Award, the Philip Hodgins Memorial Medal, and the Australia Council's Writer's Emeritus Award for lifetime achievement. His Selected Poems has been published in the USA, China, Germany, the Netherlands and the UK. He is the author of a prize-winning prose memoir, The Land I Came Through Last.

A Spell of Words

A new selection in which poems published in various forms between 1991 and 2013 lead into eleven new works, including After the Rain, the poem from which the volume takes its title.

Rain-charm for the Duchy

Anthony Wilson's sixth collection, The Wind and the Rain, meets mortality and loss with humour, feeling and intelligence. Wilson combines a deceptively light touch with hard-earned palpable depth; candid, inventive, and never self-pitying. "Precise, cinematic, achingly tender poems for those of us who have loved and lost someone close. Like driving rain, this collection will take you to the raw place of grief and carry you to where joy breaks through." —Josephine Corcoran "Throughout The Wind and The Rain, Anthony Wilson walks the tightrope of simplicity. He peels off layers of language, paring it back to its core, searching for the means to express the intensity of grief. In his skilled hands, less becomes more." —Matthew Stewart

Hard Rain & Thunderstorms

Written over the period of several years, the forty-one poems contained in this book include both light verse and more thoughtful pieces. Ariadne Lewis is also the author of "Quiver," a tale of Maid Marian and Robin Hood.

Rain Towards Morning

Stephen Dunn's essays are grounded and funny and accessible without ceding intelligence or audacity. --amazon.com

After the Rain

Jim Fox has been putting his thoughts onto paper for many years, both in poetry and as essays. Here are selected works that reflect his sensitivity as a poet and his straightforward opinions as an essayist. "These are my favorite pieces that I have written from the time of my youth up to the present," says Fox. "I touch upon many topics such as religion, music, family and friends, politics."

Male Rain

Percy Bysshe Shelley (1792–1822) was one of the major Romantic poets and wrote what is critically recognised as some of the finest lyric poetry in the English Language. In this volume, the editors have selected the most popular, significant and frequently taught poems from the six-volume Longman Annotated edition of Shelley's poems. Each poem is fully annotated, explained and contextualised, along with a comprehensive list of abbreviations, an inclusive bibliography of material relating to the text and interpretation of Shelley's poetry, plus an extensive chronology of Shelley's life and works. Headnotes and footnotes furnish the personal, literary, historical and scientific information necessary for an informed reading of Shelley's richly varied and densely allusive verse, making this an ideal anthology for students, classroom use, and anyone approaching Shelley's poetry for the first time; however the level and extent of commentary and annotation will also be of great value for researchers and critics.

Indian National Bibliography

"Full edition of Wordsworth's poetry."--Page 4 of cover.

The Wind and the Rain

The new and selected poetry collection by noted translator Chana Bloch.

Rain Is Always Falling Somewhere

They said: "Write the longest sentence you know." I wrote: "A life without you." A collection of over fifty poems from Cameron Lincoln, from haiku to ode. Covering life, love, lust and loss, these pieces visit the depths of the heart to the far reaches of the universe.

A Thousand Friends of Rain

An award-winning gathering of exquisite poems by a celebrated poet.

Walking Light

"Rain Mirror," writes Michael McClure, "stands as my most bare and forthright book. It contains two long poems, 'Haiku Edge' and 'Crisis Blossom,' which are quite disparate from one another." Together, the poems complement each other as do light and dark. "Haiku Edge" is a poem of linked haiku, often humorous, sometimes harsh, and always elegant. "Crisis Blossom," in contrast, is a long poem in three parts that records the author's "state of psyche, capillaries, muscles, fears, boldnesses, and hungers down where they exist without management," and the months of shock and recovery during a psychophysical meltdown.

The Noise of the Rain

Lemn Sissay was seventeen when he wrote his first poetry book, which he hand-sold to the miners and millworkers of Wigan. Since then his poems have become landmarks, sculpted in granite and built from concrete, recorded on era-defining albums and declaimed in over thirty countries. He has performed to thousands of football fans at the FA Cup Final, to hundreds of thousands as the poet of the London Olympics, and to millions across our TV screens and the airwaves of BBC Radio. He has become one of the nation's best-loved voices.

HARD RAIN

How can language contain the world that spills From its torn rinds, how can my ode hold On to language that ejects itself like birdsong From pine trees still shady with dawn . . . 'To Mount Victoria', The Commonplace Odes Ian Wedde has been a major presence in New Zealand poetry since his work began appearing in journals in the late 1960s. His first book of poetry appeared in 1971; his sixth book won the New Zealand Book Award for Poetry in 1978; his sixteenth and most recent was a finalist in 2014. By the mid-1980s, as well as shaping his own verse, he had become an influential critic and shaper of larger trends in poetry as one of the co-editors of The Penguin Book of New Zealand Verse (1985) and The Penguin Book of Contemporary New Zealand Poetry – Ng Kupu T+tohu o Aotearoa (1989). After a quiet spell in the mid- to late 1990s came the much celebrated The Commonplace Odes in 2001, in which Wedde offered the Horatian/Keatsian ode as transformative a moment as Baxter had given the sonnet back in 1970. Three excellent books followed, most recently The Lifeguard: Poems 2008–2013, published at the end of his tenure as New Zealand Poet Laureate. While Wedde has constantly experimented with and pushed boundaries of form and influence in his poetry, his work returns often to key themes and ideas, preoccupations and effects that this book throws into brilliant relief: a politics of language, social and ecological relationships, how memory works, the perceptual world. The son Carlos of Earthly: Sonnets for Carlos (1975) is now a father himself; Ian Wedde's poems are now more likely to feature grandchildren. But the ranging, tenacious, conceptual-romantic poet, with his linguistically rich but intellectually rigorous voice, is the same, and tracing that voice through nearly five decades will be one of the many pleasures readers take from this book. With selections from 1971's Homage to Matisse all the way through to 2013's The Lifeguard, Ian Wedde's Selected Poems will introduce readers new and old to one of New Zealand's most distinguished contemporary poets.

collected poems

Kathleen Raine is internationally recognized as one of the outstanding living English poets. Her poems rest on loving observation of the natural world, embrace the world of the soul's experience, and return these to the kingdom of the ever-reborn mystery of our daily life. This is the first time a selection from the whole range of her poetic oeuvre has been published.

Fox Tales: Selected Poetry and Essays

Exploring the moods that water and fluids inherently unravel, Sudeep Sen reflects on rain. He describes its passion and politics, its beauty and fury, and its ability to douse and arouse.

Plantains in the Rain

A new type of Shelley edition for students: as well as reliable versions of the key texts, there are summaries, notes glossing difficult words or phrases and technical notes. Each poem also comes with concise biographical information and intertexts—extracts from longer or less familiar works to deepen understanding, stimulate discussion and promote wider reading.

Shelley: Selected Poems

A volume of poems concerned with intimacy and wholeness, and with history and how the world endures it—from the Pulitzer Prize-winning author and "one of the greatest poets of our age ... the Thoreau of our era" (Edward Hirsch). A literary event—a new volume of poems by one of the masters of modern poetry—The Rain in the Trees is W. S. Merwin's first book since the publication of his Opening the Hand. Almost no other poet of our time has been able to voice in so subtle a fashion such a profound series of comments on the passing of history over the contemporary scene. To do this, he seems to have reinvented the poem—so that the experience of reading Merwin is unlike the reading of any other poetry. In such famous books as The Lice, The Moving Target and (most recently) Opening the Hand, he has produced a body of work of great profundity and power made from the simplest and most beautiful poetic speech. Merwin can now rightfully be called a master, and this book shows in every way why this is the case.

The Collected Poems of William Wordsworth

Reproduction of the original: Coleridge's Ancient Mariner and Select Poems by Samuel Taylor Coleridge

Swimming in the Rain

Shot through with his trademark humour, 'Trying Conclusions' is the fourteenth collection of poems from the lauded writer. Containing twenty-three poems, the topics vary wildly, from short verses on waiting rooms and fast cars to longer musings on his family, war, and the US Congress. Nemerov's sense of the satirical is best seen in shorter offerings, where he takes a literary look at life from the other end of the telescope. A superb introduction to the works of one of the 20th Century's most subversive scribes. Howard Nemerov (1920 – 1991) was an American novelist and poet, who won the Pulitzer Prize in 1978. His novels are characterised by the use of self-deprecating wit and an ongoing sense of irony. While his books tended to satirise 20th Century American life, his poems often focussed on the beauty and innocence of nature. In addition, Nemerov also worked as a scriptwriter, most notably on the film, 'Tall Story,' starring Anthony Perkins and Jane Fonda.

Princeton Alumni Weekly

This critical edition of the poems of Anna Seward (1742-1809) re-establishes one of the most popular and prolific poets of the early Romantic period. Her work influenced Charlotte Smith and Mary Robinson and later both Wordsworth and Coleridge. Her reputation was so high that Sir Walter Scott edited the posthumous edition of her poems in 1810. Unlike Scott's, this edition reproduces the poems as they were first published in periodicals and collections during Seward's lifetime, allowing scholars to experience them as eighteenth century readers did. It also includes more than 200 poems that were excluded from the Scott edition.

Sideways Rain - Collected Poems

This is a collection of poems that use rain and cricket as recurring themes.

like those forsaken among the dead, like the slain that lie in the grave, like those whom You remember no more, for they are cut off from Your hand.

You have put me in the depths of the Pit, in the regions dark and deep.

Your wrath lies heavy upon me, and You overwhelm me with all Your waves. Selah

Do You work wonders for the dead? Do the shades rise up to praise You? Selah

Is Your steadfast love declared in the grave, or Your faithfulness in Abaddon?

Are Your wonders known in the darkness, or Your saving help in the land of forgetfulness?

O LORD, why do you cast me off? Why do You hide Your face from me?

Wretched and close to death from my youth up, I suffer Your terrors; I am desperate.

Your wrath has swept over me; Your dread assaults destroy me. 17 They surround me like a flood all day long; from all sides they close in on me.

You have caused friend and neighbor to shun me; the darkness is my closest friend. (Psalm 88:1-18)

You have made us a byword among the nations, a laughingstock among the peoples.
