The Novels, Romances, and Memoirs of Alphonse Daudet

Excerpt from The Novels, Romances, and Memoirs of Alphonse Daudet: Memories of a Man of Letters, And, Notes on Life IN the introduction to Thirty Years in Paris, I attempted to present a hasty sketch of Alphonse Baudet's literary work, as represented by his published books, down to the appearance of yack in 1876, that being the last of his books whose history is printed in that volume. He tells us that he was already at work on The Nabob, when a chance suggestion from Gustave Droz led him to lay it aside for the moment and set about writing a novel founded upon the story of his unhappy friend Raoul. On that day, he says, in the history of 7m, laying aside Tke Nabob, which was already in process of construction, I started Off upon this fresh scent with a feverish haste, a trembling at the ends of the fingers, which seizes me at the beginning and end of all my books. And in the yonmal dz: Gomourt, under date of Sunday, March 21, 1876, Edmond de Goncourt writes: During our long walk I talked with Daudet of the novel he has in his head, in which he intends to introduce Morny incidentally. Memoirs of a Maltese Mariner

Ing. Joseph Amato was born on the island of Malta during the years of WWII and started his sailing days while the island was a major British naval base in the Mediterranean. Having received his education at St. Augustine's College and later his engineering apprenticeship at the then Royal Naval Dockyard in Malta, he went on to follow a thirty-year sea-going career in the British Mercantile Marine, starting from coastal British and European ports, Baltic and Irish seas as far as Spitzbergen, Greenland and Icelandic ports. At twenty-nine years he obtained his class I, followed with a tanker endorsement on steam and motor propulsion and moved on to deep sea shipping, engaging himself on long distance voyaging, and as requested by various shipping companies. Now Joseph has retired from "pushing" tankers (VLCC) around the globe and prefers to enjoy his days afloat, propelled by the wind on his ketch-rigged sailing boat.

Autobiography of James Silk Buckingham

The recently developed field of transatlantic literary studies has encouraged scholars to move beyond national literatures towards an examination of communications between Britain and the Americas. The true extent and importance of these material and literary exchanges is only just beginning to be discovered. This collection of original essays explores the transatlantic literary imagination during the key period from 1660 to 1830: from the colonization of the Americas to the formative decades following political separation between the nations. Contributions from leading scholars from both sides of the Atlantic bring a variety of approaches and methods to bear on both familiar and undiscovered texts. Revealing how literary genres were borrowed and readapted to a different context, the volume offers an index of the larger literary influences going backwards and forwards across the ocean.

The Naval Chronicle: Volume 25, January-July 1811

In this gripping, page-turning account, Sam Moses has told a story in the tradition of Sebastian Junger's A Perfect Storm, Robert Kurson's Shadow Divers, and Hampton Sides's Ghost Soldiers. It's a story about the heroism of two men in battle at sea during World War II, and one woman fleeing Nazi Norway with her child. It's about how courage can change the course of history. AT ALL COSTS: How a Crippled Ship and Two American Merchant Marines Turned the Tide of World War II is the astonishing untold account, with original historical reporting, of how two men faced unfathomable danger to help save the island of Malta, Churchill's crux of the war. In 1942, the tiny island of Malta was the most heavily bombed place on earth. Hitler needed Malta as a stepping-stone to get to the oil in Iraq and Iran (Persia at the time). Blockaded by sea, Malta was running on empty, in food, fuel and ammunition. Axis U-boats and dive-bombers made supply convoys to Malta more like suicide missions. In this last-hope convoy, 50 warships escorted 13 freighters carrying aviation fuel, and a single critical tanker, the SS Ohio, with 107,000 barrels of oil from Texas. Winston Churchill had traveled to Washington and asked FDR for the tanker—his prime ministership was at stake over this mission to Malta. Relentlessly dive-bombed and repeatedly torpedoed, the Ohio suffered huge hits and was abandoned. Two young American merchant mariners—pulled from the sea after their own ship went down in flames—boarded the ravaged tanker, repaired her guns and fought off German and Italian dive-bombers, as the sinking Ohio was towed at 4 knots toward Malta with a tiny crew of volunteers. Sam Moses' AT ALL COSTS is a triumphant story of human bravery: fearless, selfless acts by men determined to save a ship and win a war; profound communal courage from an island under brutal siege; and leaders who understood the cause of freedom.

The Naval Chronicle

Tracing its origins back to 1822 in Whampoa, the Mariners' Club in Hong Kong was established to meet a specific need for an Anglo-Chinese society defined by that most dubious of activities, seafaring. Its creation was anything but straightforward, and in this can be seen the mutable and often tortuous relations between the various religious bodies, the local population, the transient sailors, the emerging captains of industry, and the growing regulatory reach of the colonial government. The club evolved through many embodiments and witnessed the growth of Hong Kong from a collection of mat-sheds on the foreshore, through colony to its current status. Throughout its turbulent past it has been occasionally marginalized but has always served as an important base for the key actors in the main commercial activity in Hong Kong: seafarers. This is a history of one of the most enduring institutions of Hong Kong, and the first of its kind. Using the Club's own records as well as a wide range of sources both from within Hong Kong and from the seafaring world at large, this is a comprehensive account of the life of the Missions, the tenancy of the different chaplains, managers, and stewards, the changes in seafaring practices and shipping, and the transformation of Hong Kong itself.

THE COMPLETE WORKS OF SAMUEL TAYLOR COLERIDGE (Illustrated Edition)

Thomas Roe, born near London in 1580 or 1581 was a notable and influential figure in the England of Elizabeth and of the early Stuarts. In his wide-ranging career, he came into contact with an array of famous seventeenth-century persons ranging from Sir Walter Raleigh to Archbishop William Laud and from Queen Elizabeth of Bohemia to the Great Mogul Emperor of Hindustan. Roe was one of the most capable diplomats of his time and his career was associated with developments of great importance: colonial and commercial expansion, the beginnings of empire, foreign relations, religious movements, domestic dissent. This sparkling, first full biography of Sir Thomas Roe delineates the unusual range of the ambassador's experiences and the importance of his career against the complex background of that spirited age. Dedicated to the view that England should be actively involved in Europe, Roe worked tirelessly toward the attainment of that goal.

We Were Now Alone and on that Idea a Sudden Fit of Trembling Seized Me I Was So Afraid without a Precise Notion of Why and What I Had To Fear that I Sat on the Sette by the Fireside Motionless and Petrified without Life or Spirit Not Knowing How To Look or How To Stir but Long I Was Not Suffered

To Remain in this State of Stupifaction the Monster Squatted Down by Me on the Sette and without Further Ceremony or Preamble Flings His Arms about My Neck and Drawing Me Pretty Forcibly towards Him Obligated Me To Receive in Spite of My Struggles To Disengage from Him His Pestilential Kisses Which Quite Overcame Me Finding Me Then Next to Senseless

And Laid all Open There to His Eyes and Hands Still I Endured All without Flinching till Emboldened by My Sufferance and Silence for I Had Not the Power To Speak or Cry Out He Attempted To Lay Me Down on the Settee and I Felt His Hand on the Lower Part of My Naked Thighs Which Were Crossed in Which He Endeavored To Unlock Oh Then I Was Roused out of My Passive Endurance and Springing from Him with an Activity He Was Not Prepared for Threw Myself at His Feet and Begged Him in the Most Moving Tone Not To Be Rude

He Was Unbuttoned both Waistcoat and Breeches Yet I Only Felt the Weight of His Body upon Me whilst I Lay Struggling with Indignation and Dying with Terror but He Stopped all of a Sudden and Got Off Panting Blowing Cursing and Rehearsing upon Me Old and Ugly for So I Had Very Naturally Called Him in the Heat of My Defense the Brute Had It Seems as I Afterwards Understood Brought On by His Eagerness and Struggle the Ultimate Period of His Hot Fit of Lust Which His Power Was Too Short-Lived To Carry Him through the Full Execution of of Which My Thighs and Linen Received the Effusion

Which I Listened to with More Pleasure than Ever Fond Woman Did to Protestations of Love from Her Darling Minion for Incapable as I Was of Receiving any Addition to My Perfect Hatred and Aversion to Him I Looked on this Railing as My Security against His Renewing His Most Odious Caresses Yet Plain as Mrs Brown's Views Were Now Come Out I Had Not the Heart or Spirit To Open My Eyes to Them Still I Could Not Part with My Dependence on that Beldum So Much Did I Think Myself Hers Soul and Body or Rather I Sought To Deceive Myself with a Continuation of My Good Opinion of Her and Chose To Wait the Worst at Her Hands Sooner than Being Turned Out To Starve in the Streets Without a Penny of Money or a Friend To Apply to these Fears Were My Folly whilst this Confusion of Ideas Was Passing in My Head and I Sat Pensive by the Fire with My Eyes Brimming with Tears My Neck Still Bare and My Cap Fallen Off in the Struggle so that My Hair Was in the Disorder You May Guess the Villain's Lust Began I Suppose To Be Again in Flow at the Sight of All that Bloom of Youth Which Presented Itself to His View a Bloom Yet Unenjoyed and in Course Not Yet Indifferent to Him You May Guess the Villain's Lust Began I Suppose To Be Again in Flow at the Sight of All that Bloom of Youth Which Presented Itself to His View a Bloom Yet Unenjoyed and in Course Not Yet Indifferent to Him after some Pause He Asked Me with a Tone of Voice Mightily Softened whether I Would Make It Up with Him before the Old Lady Returned and all Should Be Well He Would Restore Me to His Affections at the Same Time Offering To Kiss Me and Feel My Breasts but Now My Extreme Aversion My Fears My Indignation all Acting upon Me Gave Me a Spirit Not Natural to Me so that Breaking Loose from Him I Ran to the Bell and Rang It before He Was Aware with Such Violence and Defect Has Brought Up the Maid To Know What Was the Matter or whether the Gentleman

But Now My Extreme Aversion My Fears My Indignation all Acting upon Me Gave Me a Spirit Not Natural to Me so that Breaking Loose from Him I Ran to the Bell and Rang It before He Was Aware with Such Violence and Defect Has Brought Up the Maid To Know What Was the Matter or whether the Gentleman Wanted Anything and before He Could Proceed to Greater Extremities She Bounced into the Room and Seeing Me Stretched on the Floor My Hair all Disheveled My Nose Gushing Out Blood Which Did Not a Little tragedized the Scene and My Odious Persecutors Still Intent of Pushing His Brutal Point Unmoved by All My Cries in Distress She Was Herself Confounded and Did Not Know What To Do As Much However as Martha Might Be Prepared and Hardened Two Transactions of this Sort all Womanhood Must Have Been out of Her Heart Could She Have Seen this Unmoved besides that on the Face of Things She Imagined that Matters Had Gone Greater Lengths than They Really Had and that the Courtesy of the House Had Been Actually Consummated on Me and Flung Me into the Condition
