Chris caught his first steelhead on the North Umpqua River.

He tells us how the idea for the book came about.

Chris' first book was, Fifty Places to Play Golf Before You Die: Golf Experts Share the World's Greatest Destinations, published in 2004.

He's done 16 other '50 Places' books after the golf one.

The book about sailing was a challenge to write for him. That was his third '50 places' book written.

Chris interviewed Frank Moore for his fly fishing book as well as other respected names in fly fishing and fly tying.

Fifty Places to Drink Beer has done very well too.

We talk about his music background. He had a band called, Catch and Release. They wrote and recorded original songs. Check out their music here.

They play live regularly at the Oakshire Beer Hall in Portland.

The Grateful Dead band was a great influence on Chris. His favorite song was Jack Straw.
